ESTABLISHED 1846. NEWPORT, R. I., MONDAY, AUGUST 27, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Read other people's advertisements, go look at the goods, then come down here with the whole thing fresh in your mind so that you can make a fair comparison and see how the bargain price compares with the Titus price. Here's one of three big stores that handle more iron beds than any other concern in New England. Can't you see that other dealers have to lose their profit to sell at our price? It's the "little more" they have to get that brings you back each time to Titus.

IRON BEDS.

Nearly sixty patterns in this great stock—none better made—and yet:

At $2.25 A very neat design, with brass knobs on four corner posts.
At $4.25 With brass rails and knobs and extending foot.

SHOT AND KILLED WHILE DRIVING

General Vonliarliarski Murdered in Warsaw.

Assasssin Escapes After Firing Four Bullets.

WARSAW, Aug. 27.—General Vonliarliarski, acting military governor of Warsaw, was shot and killed at 2 o'clock this afternoon while driving in arab. The assassin escaped. General Vonliarliarski was the commander of the Fifth army corps stationed at Warsaw.

General Vonliarliarski was driving in a carriage from the commandant's office to his residence. As the gateway of the driver slackened speed at a place where the street was torn up for repaving an unknown young man fired four shots at Vonliarliarski through the top of the carriage, which was up on account of the rain, one of the bullets entering the general's breast and heart. The driver of the carriage whipped up his horses and drove at full speed to the hospital, where the general died almost instantly. Vonliarliarski had only recently been appointed acting military governor of this city.

NUMBER OF ARRESTS MADE.

Unsuccessful Attempt on Life of Baron Stahl Denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—An unsuccessful attempt upon the life of Baron Stahl is reported to have been made in the park at Peterhof last night, but the story is denied. It is certain that a bomb was not thrown in the park, and that a revolver was not fired there last evening. A numbers of arrests, however, were made in the park during the evening. Baron Stahl bears some resemblance to General Trepoff, and may have been mistaken for the latter.

A number of officers with beards who might be mistaken for General Trepoff, commander of the palace, have taken their vacation to have their whiskers shaven off.

TRACK EVENTS AND EXCURSIONS

National Association of Motor Cyclists to Meet in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 27.—The annual meeting of the National Association of Motor Cyclists, which will be held here next Saturday at the Crown Hotel, will attract the greatest number of motor cycle riders ever brought together in America. The program as arranged will consist of track events to be held at Woonsocket Saturday afternoon, to which all motor cyclists have been invited. There will be seven events, for which attractive prizes are offered. Sunday there will be an excursion to Narragansett bay with a clambake. Monday an endurance run of 150 miles will be made from Providence to Worcester, and thence to Waltham and Brockton, and then the riders will return to Providence. For the more strenuous this route will be gone over twice, making 300 miles in one day.

NATIVES HELPING TROOPS.

Main Band of Pulajanes Broken Into Smaller Bodies.

MANILA, Aug. 27.—It is officially reported that the main band of the Pulajanes has broken into smaller bodies. A general movement of 4,000 troops and 300 constabulary through all parts of the disaffected region is planned. A part of the grievance of Leyte, south of Bayog bay, has been cleared of Pulajanes. There is no disaffection on the west coast except a few bands which have escaped the soldiers. On the east coast native sufferers are bringing in prisoners. Governor Veyra reports that hundreds of natives have volunteered to help the troops.

EXPERIMENT FOR ONE DAY.

News Columns of Worcester Telegram Appeared with Phonetic Spelling.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 27.—The news columns of the Telegram appeared today with spelling of the phonetic form in accordance with the rules approved by President Roosevelt. The plan is being tried as an experiment for one day only, though it is explained that, as the newspaper has for some time followed the phonetic spelling in 169 of the 303 cases mentioned in the rules, the innovation is not so great as it might appear. In order to carry out the idea through all the news columns, extra help was required in several departments of the paper.

TRUNKS STILL IN BUFFALO.

Checked From Chicago by Stensland Day After His Disappearance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Paul O. Stensland, the fugitive president of the defunct Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, checked two trunks from Chicago to New York over the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, according to the police, on the day after his supposed disappearance from Chicago. About two hours after the trunks were checked Stensland sent a telegram to have the trunks stopped at Buffalo. The Buffalo police were asked to locate the trunks, and yesterday wired the Chicago police that they were still in Buffalo at the Lake Shore station uncalled for.

SENT NO MESSAGE TO CHICAGO.

Chief of Detectives of Buffalo Knows Nothing of Stensland's Trunks.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 27.—Chief of Detectives Taylor said this morning that he had never been queried regarding Stensland's baggage and had certainly sent no message to the Chicago police, informing them that there were two trunks belonging to him at the Lake Shore baggage rooms here.

At the railroad station nothing was known relative to the trunks, and it was positively denied that they were or had been in their possession.

LITTLE ACTUAL FIGHTING OCCURS.

Peace May be Secured Without Great Bloodshed.

Expected Battle at Pinar Del Rio Not Yet Fought.

HAVANA, Aug. 27.—News from the somewhat uncertain shifting "front" is meagre today, due in a measure to the government's determination that false reports from insurgent sources shall not be generally circulated. The expected battle in the vicinity of Pinar Del Rio is yet to be fought. Failure of the government forces to take the offensive against the insurgent leader Guerra, and the latter's hesitancy in striking the promised blow encourages the hope that peace may be secured without great bloodshed.

It is hinted in some quarters that the insurgents do not seriously contemplate the overthrow of the government, and would be quite satisfied if by making a show of force they could frighten or persuade President Palma to restore certain deposed Liberals to office and make concessions as to the conduct of future elections. Claims and counter claims are frequent, but there is comparatively little action fighting.

At the palace little is given out. The enrollment of volunteers continues, horses are being requisitioned and army nurses are being sent to the front. There is talk of a 30 days' amnesty, in which insurgents who surrender their arms would be pardoned, but if the government intends such a move its purpose is not admitted. Skirmishes between small bands continue.

From the field Colonel Aslett has sent the following message to the palace: "We have taken up arms against the government because we have reached the conclusion that law and justice are not to be established in this country by the will of the government, and because the administration, protected by an unscrupulous judiciary, daily commits outrages upon the constitution and despoils our people of their legitimate rights.

"It is our sole desire to establish the supreme rule of law and restore affairs where they were before the last election. We want new elections called in order that the people, exercising with the fullest freedom the right of suffrage, may elect the men who ought to occupy the post of president and vice president, as well as governors, senators, representatives and provincial councilmen of the republic. We understand that when this people shall be in possession of their legitimate rights the expense of this new free territory will be assured. Certainly it has merited the moral peace that nations need."

A correspondent at Pinar Del Rio, of the Havana Telegraph, who was arrested yesterday on orders from the government, because, it is said, he filed a press despatch containing a statement untrue and injurious to the government, wires his paper as follows:

"In Sabalo I saw Brigadier General Pino Guerra, Colonels Julian Betancourt, Bravet and Julian Cruz. Colonel Betancourt told me he had information that the government had commissioned eight men to assassinate him and Pino Guerra, but since they knew who the men were they proposed to hang them before they got in their work.

"Colonel Betancourt informed me that he had run up to Cakaffre with his escort to look after 10 of their wounded whom they have in the field hospital there, after which he had come to Sabalo to join Pino Guerra in taking possession of the country.

"Pino Guerra says he is going into Guano to get the rural guard, Corporal Trujillo, out of the jail there. He says this man is imprisoned for being a Liberal, and for fear he may join the rebellion. Pino Guerra has sent a letter to the mayor of Guano, informing him that if he found Trujillo dead on his arrival he would hang the authorities in the town."

REBELS HAVE NO PROGRAM.

Palma Says Insurrection is Movement of Discontented People.

HAVANA, Aug. 27.—President Palma today gave out a statement in which he says that the insurrection has no ideals and no program, and that the cries which the insurgents raised do not constitute a program, ideals or a justification for the movement. Continuing the president says:

"All revolutions must have a pro-

This Morning's News.

PALMA CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS.

Government Has Not Received Any Reverse of Consequence.

HAVANA, Aug. 25.—President Palma has officially called for volunteers to compose a national militia of infantry and cavalry and to co-operate with the government forces under the command of the chief of the rural guards. The pay of chiefs of battalions and regiments will be $200 a month, adjutants $125 a month, captains $100 a month and soldiers $2 a day. All volunteers disabled will receive full pay during the period of disability, and in the event of their death the money will go to their dependent heirs.

Up to the present time the government has not suffered a reverse of any consequence, and today it chronicled further victories. The principal of these came as the result of an attack by 450 mounted rural guards under Major Gomez upon Bellosos's band of 1,200 insurgents at Caseajal, near Santa Rosa.

This engagement came at the end of a three days' pursuit of the enemy. A forced march brought the government forces suddenly upon the revolutionists. After the first exchange of shots the rural guards chased the enemy, who had dispersed and fled, and inflicted severe punishment with machetes.

A report of this occurrence received by General Rodriguez tonight says at least 20 of the revolutionists were killed or wounded. This makes the engagement the most serious yet fought. The rural guards did not sustain serious injury.

Minor encounters have resulted in uniform victories for the government. Those who are responsible for the conduct of affairs are considerably encouraged and are perfecting every day systematic methods to down the insurrection. Furthermore, it is undeniable that there is some discouragement among the conspirators who, a week ago, had hoped that the moderates would be swept out of power immediately.

It was learned today that several new insurgent bands had taken to the brush. The growth of the insurrection certainly seems to keep pace with the preparations for suffocating it.

It is learned upon entirely reliable authority that there are grave differences between President Palma and Vice President Mendez Capote. The latter is suspected of having considered with Senator Alfredo Zayas, president of the Liberal party, the question of whether peace could not be restored by Palma's withdrawal from the presidency by permitting Mendez Capote to succeed him and by giving certain posts to the Liberals.

Ex-Congressman Carlos Mendieta, chief of the uprising in Santa Clara province, and Captain Arana, his adjutant, have been captured by government troops. They were about to leave for the north and had $8,000 with them, with which it is supposed they were going to buy arms for the rebels.

SLAIN BY GIRL NIHILIST.

General Min Killed Because of His Alleged Cruelties.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 26.—Saturday's unsuccessful attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin, with its sickening useless slaughter of 32 persons, was followed tonight by another revolutionary outrage, in which General Min, commander of the Seminovsky Guard Regiment, and who, since his promotion to be a general, has been attached as a personal adjutant to the suite of the emperor, was killed on the station platform at Peterhof by a young woman. She fired five shots into his body from an automatic revolver and then, without resistance, submitted to arrest. The capture of the girl was effected by General Min's wife, who held her until the arrival of an officer.

This was the third successive attempt on the life of General Min, who was condemned to death by the terrorist tribunal immediately after the Moscow revolt last December on account of the pattern repression practiced by a battalion under his command and especially for the wholesale execution of persons condemned by drumhead courtmartial for being caught with arms in their hands.

General Min was returning from the capital to his summer residence at Peterhof and had just greeted his wife and daughter on the platform, when a young woman—almost a girl—approached from behind and fired two shots into his back, and then three more into his body as it sank to the ground.

Further shots were prevented by Mme. Min, who threw herself upon the murderess and seized the hand which held the pistol. The woman did not attempt to escape, but she cautioned Mme. Min not to touch a handbag, which she had placed on the platform before shooting the general, explaining that it contained a bomb.

To the police the girl acknowledged that she had done the deed, saying she had executed the sentence of the fighting organization of the Social Revolutionists, but she refused to give her name.

The death sentence had long hung over the head of General Min, owing to the displeasure into which he had fallen because of alleged cruelties.

The central committee of the Social Revolutionists has drawn up a proclamation, which declares that unless the government forthwith alters its policy such acts as the attempt on the life of Premier Stolypin will be pursued to the utmost and government representatives will be killed by hundreds.

The daughter of Premier Stolypin, who was injured by the bomb explosion in the premier's summer home Saturday and who was erroneously reported to have died, is still alive and passed a quiet night. Mlle. Stolypin is one of seven daughters of the premier. The wounded boy is his only son. Mme. Stolypin was driving at the time of the explosion.

Two persons injured by the explosion died during the night, bringing the total number up to 32. The reported death today of one of the assassins can not be confirmed.

BRYAN SUGGESTED AS ARBITER.

Josiah Quincy Makes Proposition to District Attorney Moran.

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—A letter asking that District Attorney John B. Moran submit to William Jennings Bryan the question whether his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts "ought to stand in the way of all that the nomination and election of former Governor William L. Douglas would mean for the party" was sent to Mr. Moran by Josiah Quincy, chairman of the Democratic state committee, today. Mr. Quincy further states in his letter that he intends to resign his position as chairman "as soon as I have discharged my duties as I see them in this party crisis."

District Attorney John B. Moran issued an address to "the citizens of Massachusetts this evening, when he ignored the proposition of Mr. Quincy that the question of the relative merits of the candidacies of Moran and Douglas for governor of Massachusetts be submitted to William J. Bryan for decision."

THREE THIS WEEK.

"Arrah-na-Pogue," "The Chorus Lady," and "Not Yet But Soon" at the Opera House.

Three attractions are booked for four nights this week at the Opera House—Andrew Mack in "Arrah-na-Pogue," Monday; Rose Stahl in "The Chorus Lady," Tuesday and Wednesday, and, "Hap" Ward in his new musical comedy, "Not yet, But Soon," Thursday.

In the Irish comedy drama field Mr. Mack is prominent, and the esteem in which he is held by the play-going public is testified in the patronage it has given him in the past. A large sum of money has been invested to give "Arrah-na-Pogue" all the stage accessories which go to make up an elaborate production. Mr. Mack will be seen as Shaun the Post, Mae Stevenson as Arrah, Georgie O'Meara as Fanny Powers, Alice Gilmore as Kitty, Earl Simmons as Beamish McCool, J. J. Hylands as The O'Grady, J. Palmer Collins as Major Cotlin, Thomas F. O'Malley as Michiel Feeney, Thomas E. Jackson as the Sergeant, Gus Carney as Oweny Farrell and Richard Johnson as Lanigan. Mr. Mack will introduce four new songs and will also revive the old-time Irish ballad, "The Wearing of the Green."

James Forbes's comedy, "The Chorus Lady," in which Rose Stahl will be seen, is a new and original comedy drama by Mr. Forbes. During the past summer Miss Stahl has been appearing at the Palace Theatre, London, where she made a hit as Patrica O'Brien in the one-act sketch. After a short Eastern tour Miss Stahl goes to New York, where Mr. Henry B. Harris will present her at the Savoy Theatre. Mr. Francis Byrne of this city has a prominent part in the play.

The new musical show in which "Hap" Ward will be seen here, entitled "Not Yet but Soon," has been conceived and put into rehearsal with but one object in view—to amuse and entertain an audience. The fun is of the touch-and-go kind, and in the hands of the company which Manager E. D. Stair has supplied the performance promises to be one of the most entertaining farces ever put on the boards. The musical numbers add greatly to the merits of the piece. They are 14 in number, and among the song hits are "Mary Wise," "Mam'selle," "Wonderland," "My Irish Girl," "Playmates," "When Dreams Come True," "Larry," "The Wedding of the Blue and Gray" and "Camp Meetin' Time." The costuming of the chorus is another prominent feature. The company supporting Mr. Ward numbers 50 people. Lucy Daly, Fred Wyckoff, Robert Evans, Matt Woodward, Dick Barry, John C. Hart, Fred Parrent, Charles Sandy Chapman, Carrie Merrilees, Jennie Palmer, Marian Merrill and Helen Clark heading the list.

AT THE BRISTOL COUNTY FAIR.

Direct from Tokio, the Imperial Japanese Troupe will be at the New Bristol County Fair this year. This is the same troupe engaged last year, but as they did not arrive in this country until a few days after the fair had closed they could not of course show, much to the disappointment of the management. Six men, two women and two little children comprise the company. No other race in the world is the equal of the Japanese in dexterity and strength, and these people, descended from a long line of Oriental entertainers, are said to perform acts which no others attempt.

Beachey, the "Airship King," will make his two flights daily in the open, in view of the thousands.

THE BAREHEADED GIRL.

[New York Herald.]

Enough has been said of the barefooted boy;
His tatters and tan and all that,
But here is a word for a creature of joy:
The maiden without any hat;
A freckle or two may be seen on her cheeks,
But her teeth are the whitest of pearl,
And her eyes are as blue as a clear summer sky—
All hail to the bareheaded girl!

O, sweet is the miss in the leghorn, with brim
Fantastically crumpled and bent,
And the damsel in chapeau of needlework made
On thoughts of dictation intent;
But their charms and their graces are all, to my mind,
Outweighed by a single bright curl,
As soft and as smooth as the finest of silk,
From the locks of the bareheaded girl.

The breeze loves to ruffle the tendrils of gold
Caressing her lily white brow
And haggle them over her tiny pink ears,
Just quite for a true lover's vow.
O give me a wheel or an automobile
And I would not change place with an earl,
If wherever I go for the rest of my life
I may ride with the bareheaded girl!

FANCIES.

There was a man in our town, and he was wondrous wise,
He had a quarrel with his wife, who scratched his face and eyes.
And when his friends the scratches saw, and asked about the fuss,
He pointed to a bramble bush and swore he got them thus.
—[Life.

Osteid—Now, mamma, you know it would be sacrilegious to whip us.
Mamma (astonished)—Sacrilegious? Osteid—Yes; you know you always tell the neighbors we are little angels, and it would never do to whip angels.—[New York World.

"Beg pardon, sir," said the peddler of supplies, "but have you got a typewriter?"

"Yes," replied the merchant.

"May I ask what style?"

"Oh, out of sight! A regular peach! Come in and I'll introduce you to her."—[Philadelphia Ledger.

"But," the teacher insisted, "you have a dog, therefore you're the owner of a quadruped."

"No, ma'am," little Willie persisted. "Don't be stupid, Willie! I just explained to you that any animal with four legs is a quadruped."

"Yes'm, but Tige lost one o' his'n fightin' a trolley car."—[Philadelphia Press.

Lady B. once told Lord Palmerston that her maid, who had been with her to the Isle of Wight, objected to going thither again because the climate was not "embracing" enough.

"What am I to do with such a woman?" she asked.

"You had better take her to the Isle of Man next time," said Lord Palmerston.—[Tit-Bits.

Two Irishmen, much disturbed for the future of this country, were recently discussing the matter, when one of them observed:

"I tell you, Carroll, this furriners is gettin' an awful hold in the United States."

"Ye say true," assented the second Celt. "Why, I was readin' over the list of min naturalized in the circuit court ylsterday, an' ivery wan of thim was furrin."—[Harper's Weekly.

TO ACQUIRE DISTILLERIES.

Standard Oil Company Takes Steps to Own All Plants.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—The Standard Oil Company has taken steps toward acquiring ownership of all the principal distilling plants in the United States, according to a despatch from Peoria, Ill., to the Tribune.

A price has been set upon every distillery in Peoria, and indications are that a deal will be effected, and the plants will pass into the hands of the Standard soon. The chief reason of this action on the part of the Standard Oil Company was the recent passage of the alcohol bill by Congress. Experts employed by the Rockefeller interests, after experimenting, reported that their product cannot be manufactured cheaply enough to make it a serious competitor of gasoline, but that it could be used in the manufacture of mercerized cotton and other fabrics and would be an extremely favorable product to control.

THE KAISER AND THE EDITORS.

Reports that the Kaiser was anxious to visit the United States and that it was not at all impossible that he might do so have been followed promptly by a curious story about his avidity for knowledge, which is credible because it is so singular and the Kaiser is so full of singularities. It is that he had prepared and filed away detailed information about newspaper owners and managers and writers all over the world, especially in the United States. The information is said to extend to the size of their families, the extent of their incomes and their favorite beverages.

The comments of American newspapers on the possibility of a visit from Emperor William, in view of this laborious accumulation of useless biographical information, will be watched with considerable interest. Prince Henry was polite enough to say some handsome things about American newspapers when he was here and the Emperor's interest in the United States must extend to our most distinctive feature, our press. If he should come here he would pay some marked attentions to our newspaper men, would he not? Will he go through that card catalogue of his and cram up on our editors? If our papers publish some nice things about him will he see them and cut out the marked articles and paste them in his scrap book, and will he send dinner invitations to the writers?

Really, there is enough in this prospect of a visit and this story about his indexed records of American newspaper men to create a prolonged flutter in our newspaper offices. Wouldn't it be delightful to receive some marked social recognition from the Emperor of Germany, or be mentioned by him in a cologistic way in some after-dinner speech that he will make? The late Frank Hatton printed a copy of the Hawkeye on silk when General Grant visited Burlington, and we may see the entire American press printed on silk if the Kaiser should pay us a visit.

GO WEST, YOUNG WOMAN.

There evidently is a need of distribution of teachers. Here in the East there are enough and to spare, while out in the great West and Southwest there is a scarcity and the demand seems never to be filled. What is needed is the emigration of the surplus stock in the East to the regions where they need teachers badly. The West is growing rapidly and schools are multiplying fast, but it is a well known fact that that is not the only reason why the supply of teachers does not remain equal to the demand in that section of the country. The real reason is that the schoolmarms are snapped up for wives almost as soon as they reach their destination, by the shrewd and appreciative young men who are in the vast majority out there. School teachers who want to be married, and most of them apparently do, do not wait long to gratify that desire when they go west.

Horace Greeley did not include the young women in his exhortation to the young men to go west, but he would have done so if the conditions which now exist there had obtained in his day. He was considering the welfare of the young people when he gave that excellent advice, and that welfare today demands the westward movement of young women as well as young men. Any woman capable of being a good wife does not seem to live in single wretchedness very long in that part of the land, where women are scarce, but there appears to be a special fondness for school teachers among the men there and their speedy marriage has become so much a matter to be expected that some school authorities frankly intimate in their prospectus that an engagement as teacher will be a good step toward an engagement for matrimony.

Of course where one will locate is not always and altogether a matter of choice, but is decided by circumstances and environment, but it is to be regretted that there should be so great a dearth of teachers in one part of the country and so large a surplus in another and it seems as though some way ought to be devised for remedying this difficulty. It is evident that the schools which need teachers cannot be moved where the unemployed teachers are, and so it is inevitable that teachers out of work should leave their homes and go where the teacherless schools are. But then one is not likely to be without a home long, according to the experience of many and the glowing statements of the school officials, for there are young men simply waiting for new teachers to appear, that they may make them their wives and establish them in their homes.

Could there be any better opportunity or any greater inducement for young women looking for a career? Why are there not flocks of young women seeking out these delightful fields of usefulness and conquest? As a matter of fact, there are many making the venture, enough indeed to supply many more than the number of schools available, but the demand for wives continues and exhausts all the supply of teachers as fast as they come, and as makes a constant demand for more to instruct the young and build homes for the future. There is in the East no such peculiar relationship recognized between pedagogy and matrimony, but in the West it cannot be ignored and no one seems to want to ignore it. It is a beneficent fact which is universally accepted.

DISAPPEARANCE OF NATIONAL AND CASTE COSTUMES.

The London Graphic notes a marked decrease in the number of distinctive national costumes, or costumes distinctive of the laboring or peasant classes—and the two things are practically identical, because the distinctive national costume survives longest among the humblest classes of the population. On certain state occasions the Czar and Czarina appear in what is called the national costume, but it is the costume of the peasantry, or what was once the costume of the peasants. Russian gentlemen and ladies don't wear it. The ladies obtain their costumes from Paris and gentlemen dress alike in all western countries and in considerable portions of Asia.

"Trousers are a demoralizing garment whose universal use dates from the French Revolution. When "small clothes" were worn the stockings, of silk or of wool, indicated the social status of the wearer, and the shoe buckles, of lead or of precious metal set with gems, certified to his wealth. When the Stuarts reigned in England gentlemen wore gorgeous and expensive clothes which working people could not approach. But men have given up all their finery, and men who could be distinguished from servants only by their clothes complain now that they cannot be distinguished from them by their clothes.

In England, and of course America, and in metropolitan cities, the costume of an inferior caste has disappeared except where servants are put in livery. But the growth of democracy is now penetrating the more out of the way sections. The Graphic notes that in the Valais only the hat survives of the national costume, while in Berne the national hat has gone while the rest of the costume remains.

It is not in accordance with the spirit of the age that a man should go about labeled with a statement of his bank account or his occupation.

Professor Brander Matthews says President Roosevelt's action approving the new spelling was "an inevitable step," but Mr. Matthews is the official head of the spelling reformers and may be prejudiced in the matter. A large number of others not only do not approve but ridicule the President's action. The confidence of Professor Matthews in the ultimate success of the reform program is not dampened by the scoffings with which the excessive order has been received by an unregenerate press and by many educators.

The Chilian government is to rebuild the devastated city of Valparaiso, taking the opportunity to make a new layout of streets, limited to a minimum width of 50 feet from sidewalk to sidewalk and paying cash for land expropriated for this purpose. Custom duties on construction material will be suspended for eight months.

As usual, the Monday morning papers contain stories of Sunday automobile accidents, a number of which resulted fatally to the riders or others. There are also tales of the arrests of many for over-speeding their machines. Sunday is a great day for automobilists.

According to some reports, Cuba is aflame with revolt; according to others, the insurrection is not of a serious character. If one may judge at this distance President Palma and his government have a serious undertaking on their hands, and know it.

There has been a wide variety of weather in the past 48 hours—sunshine, fog, rain and wind.

MAY TRY TURBINES FOR NEXT BATTLESHIP.

The bureau of steam engineering is preparing to make further inquiry into the turbine as a possible substitute for the reciprocating engine on naval ships. There is the remotest chance of the adoption of the turbine on the next battleship to be designed, but at present the experts see no good reason for departing from the tried and tried mechanism for naval propulsion. There have been several inspections of the trans-Atlantic liners which are equipped with turbines, but the information obtained has not been entirely satisfactory; in fact, there is great difficulty in obtaining desired facts concerning the expenditure of coal. This and other features are kept under cover, and it has come to be appreciated that there may be good reasons for considering the turbine more expensive in operation—at least as to coal consumption—than the reciprocating engine.

At the same time the bureau desires to obtain all possible information on the subject, and to this end will pursue the inquiry, the next step being the detail of Lieutenant Commander H. P. Norton, now on duty in the bureau of steam engineering, for an observation trip on Steamer Carmania, upon which is installed the Parsons turbine. Commander Norton will be accompanied by a bureau draftsman and will seek to add to the department fund of information in regard to turbine operation with, if possible, some record of the expenditure of fuel. It is hoped to make comparisons with another steamer of identical dimensions, the Caronia, which is equipped with reciprocating engines.

TO FIGHT SAGE WILL.

The will of Russell Sage is to be attacked in the courts by an Albany claimant for a share in the estate. He is Revel C. Sage, who says he is a grand-nephew of Russell Sage. The grounds on which this claimant will test the will are akin to that on which William Jennings Bryan recently contested the estate of one of his Connecticut adherents and admirers. Bryan was the executor of the estate and he sought to have the provisions of a private paper incorporated in the will that thereby gain for himself an extra legacy of $50,000. The courts of Connecticut held that the private paper had no bearing on the will and was a separate and invalid instrument.

Revel C. Sage says that his wealthy grand-uncle made a private paper, exactly as in the Bryan case, in which he directed how his wife and executrix should dispose of his millions. He says that this paper embodies a proposition which will form a basis for attack upon the testamentary ability of Russell Sage.

Revel C. Sage says he is the son of a nephew of Russell Sage. He was born in France, but has lived near Albany several years. His branch of the family was entirely omitted in the bequests, probably on account of his father's death. He will contest the will on the ground that he is entitled to a portion of the share in the estate which should rightfully have fallen to his father.

PROMOTION FOR MERIT.

Naval officers, all of whom are intensely interested in the outcome of the deliberations of the Newberry personnel board, are expressing their gratification over the decision of Secretary Bonaparte to obtain minority as well as majority reports from the members. One of the criticisms made against the methods of the naval general board is that the minority views in that quarter are shelved, and no one hears of the opposing opinions, although they may be valuable. This privilege of minority expression is bound to bring out a difference of opinion on the Newberry board, although it is safe to say, even at this distance of time from the final session of the board, that there will be a majority report in favor of some form of selection in promotion. This may have the effect of "selecting out" officers—a method which was approved by Secretary Taft for the army—as a means of facilitating promotion.

It is considered that the chief task of the Newberry board will be to arrive at some method by which stagnation in promotion may be avoided. Secretary Bonaparte's early attempts to obtain legislation of benefit to the personnel disclosed to him some obstinate opposition to his suggestions within the service itself. He hopes by means of the board he has detailed to arrive at something which will be acceptable, but most naval officers foresee a variety of recommendations which will enable their authors to ventilate their opinions, individually in some cases, without contributing especially to Mr. Bonaparte's enlightenment and certainty of mind.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Two Men Killed in an Electric Car-Automobile Collision.

Another Runaway Down Angell Street Hill, Providence—A New Pawtucket Mill.

The death of two men and the serious injury of a third resulted from an accident yesterday afternoon on the Apponaug road crossing in Lakewood, when a big touring car containing a party from Fall River and New Bedford was struck by a north-bound electric car from Buttonwoods. The chauffeur, Oliver Labelle of New Bedford, was caught under the coach and instantly killed; Police Liquor Inspector Alme E. Pregeau of Fall River received injuries from which his death resulted at the Rhode Island Hospital at 1:25 o'clock this morning, and George J. Paquette, a jeweler, 33 years old, of New Bedford, received severe hurts. Traffic in both directions was tied up for more than an hour while the body of the chauffeur was being extricated from under the car, and the resulting congestion continued throughout the remainder of the afternoon, seriously deranging schedules on the Rocky Point and Buttonwoods line.

Frenzied by the sight of an automobile, a horse madly dashed down Angell street hill, Providence, yesterday afternoon, carrying Dr. Fortunat Gagnon and his wife, Dr. Eugenie L. Gagnon, to what appeared certain death. The husband valiantly endeavored to stop the flight of the runaway, while his wife kept her seat and refrained from attempting to seize the reins. At the foot of the hill the driver guided the horse to the right. The animal plunged sideways against the fence back of the First Baptist Church, the force of the impact hurling the husband over the pickets to the lot below. Mrs. Gagnon was thrown to the sidewalk and the horse was driven back, falling in the gutter, where it lay quivering with agony. Dr. Gagnon and his wife were thought to have been fatally injured, but after they had been treated at the Rhode Island Hospital it was reported that they had escaped with several severe scalp wounds and contusions.

Miss Ida Halliwell, daughter of Vice President William Halliwell of the Ingrahamville Dye Works of Pawtucket, last week laid the first brick of the new $250,000 mill which is in process of construction for the concern. Pawtucket is to have a new industry which will in a few years rank as one of the foremost in the city. The Solway Manufacturing Company of Westerly and the Ingrahamville Dye Works have combined in the erection of this plant for the manufacture of fine worsted fabrics. When completed it is estimated that the plant will give employment to about 600 hands, a notable addition to the population of Pawtucket and at the same time a blow to Westerly. The laying of the first brick of this new mill was in the nature of the laying of the corner-stone, for with the brick were placed coins of the year, copies of current newspapers and interesting data. The new mill will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. It is the intention to have it ready for the machinery by the first of December, and from that time on the starting of the new plant will be gradual. It will be a welcome addition to the increasing variety of Pawtucket's industries.

While Rhode Islanders have raved and fumed over ice prices, and while a commission has plunged deeply into hidden secrets of high finance and dragged from its abysmal depths the reason for the high prices, while district attorneys throughout the country have imprisoned the ice barons on the ground that they were depriving the people of a necessity of life, John O. Whisor of Johnston has gone on serenely, using snow instead of ice, and escaping the tentacles of the "grafting" trust. Mr. Whisor filled his icehouse last winter with snow. He hasn't sold any of his precious "stuff" but has used it to cool the milk from his 29 cows and for household purposes. He hasn't bought a pound of ice this summer, and declares that the snow lasts better than the trust-controlled article. He expects to have enough "congealing" substance to last until he can lay in another supply. Next winter, he says, if people will take advantage of the discovery, on which he has neither a patent nor a copyright, people may expect to see co-operative snow houses, instead of monopolized ice houses. Police officers will probably not be obliged to urge recalcitrant fathers and sons to clear off the sidewalks; the difficulty will be to keep householders from stealing one another's snow, and from stripping the speedway of its surface.

The body of William J. Potter of Avondale, a part of Westerly, was found on the tracks of the New Haven road, about eight miles west of the bridge over West Broad street in Pawcatuck, the Connecticut side of Westerly, Saturday. As a freight train, east-bound, was crossing the other track to allow the Washington Special to pass, one of the brakemen saw the body lying between the rails. Word was sent to the station, and men went to the place and found the body terribly mangled, fragments being scattered about the track for about three rods. The body was removed from the track and many men visited the place, but none could recognize the features. An examination of the pockets brought to light the identity of the victim. It is believed that the man was walking on the tracks, when he was struck by one of the fast expresses. Mr. Potter was a resident of Avondale, and leaves a widow and three daughters.

The feature of Pawtuxet's Old Home Week celebration, which began yesterday, was the evening service in the Baptist church. Old Home Night, at which Governor George H. Utter and School Commissioner Walter E. Ranger were the principal speakers. Other services in the same church marked the observance of the first day of the jubilee, these being a centennial service conducted by a former pastor, Rev. C. W. Burnham, in the morning, and a Sunday school reunion at noon. Pawtuxet is in gala attire for the week of festivity, the lavish display of bunting about the village and the spick-and-span appearance of the estates bearing testimony to the interest which the anniversary is arousing among the townspeople.

In a fit of despondency brought on by advancing years, failing health and a lonely existence, James H. Chafee, a veteran of the Civil war and janitor of Arnold Post Hall, Providence, committed suicide at the hall some time Saturday by inhaling gas, and was dead when found in the evening. Mr. Chafee was a member of Company B, Twelfth Rhode Island Volunteers and served with the company in the Ninth Army corps under General Ambrose E. Burnside and other commanders in the Army of the Potomac. Up to four years ago he lived with a brother-in-law, but since he had been janitor of the post hall he had slept in the anteroom. His work for the post and a pension of $6 a month were his means of livelihood. He was at one time married, but was divorced several years ago.

Savings Banks giving 3½ to 4 per cent are wiser and better for those who may some day require their money at a day's notice, than are real estate investments. The Former Had an Easy Match, But the Latter a Hard Contest Against Little.

The semi-finals were in order in the national lawn tennis tournament at the Casino this morning, and as a result of the matches William J. Clothier and Karl H. Behr will contend tomorrow for the all-comers' honor and the privilege of challenging Beals C. Wright for the national championship. Clothier won his place with comparative ease, but Behr only after the hardest kind of a tennis battle, in which he was several times almost beaten but managed to pull out the victory after a five-set match which lasted nearly three hours, with an intermission of only 15 minutes.

The weather was not at all propitious for a large attendance, yet there was a fair-sized gathering when the matches were started, and before play had been in progress long the grand stand was comparatively well filled. The featured match was that between Raymond D. Little and Karl H. Behr, and it was indeed well worth the distinction given it. It was excellent tennis for five long sets and in the fourth, when the issue hung in the balance at all stages of the latter part, it was exciting in the extreme and the spectators were roused to a pitch of interest which is rarely seen on the tennis field. Little and Behr both played well, but Behr won through his ability to stay and hold his game to the end. Little's defeat was one of which he need not be ashamed. He played fine tennis and was beaten only because of the better staying qualities of his opponent.

Little won the first set quite handily, 6-2, and Behr reversed the score in the second. The third was peculiar, in that in no game was the score carried to deuce, and although 14 games were played the points were only 36 for Little and 33 for Behr.

The fourth set was a remarkable exhibition of tennis. Behr took the first game, 8-6. Then Little took five in succession, three of them at love. With the score 5-1 against him, Behr took a remarkable brace, winning the next four games. They were not easily won, three of them being carried to deuce and Little making a hard stand for the one game he needed to take the set and match. With the score at deuce games, the vantage alternated with deuce for eight games, several of these being carried to deuce. In the end Behr won the necessary two in succession, each at love, and took the set, 11-9, and the score was 2-all. This set lasted fully an hour and the score of points shows how even the play was, Behr making 73 and Little 71 points.

The last set was short. Little won three games in the opening, and then Behr took one and Little one. At this point Little began to show the effect of the long strain, and Behr run out the set in straight games, five in all, and the hard earned victory was his. In the last two games Little was in evident distress, and at one time was obliged to have his playing arm rubbed that he might continue to the end.

The other match in the semi-finals, between W. J. Clothier and J. D. E. Jones, was started after the first set of the Behr-Little match was over, and was finished before the long fourth set was concluded. Clothier won in straight sets, each at 6-3. Jones played a strong game and made many telling strokes, but he was outclassed and there was little doubt at any time of the result. The summary of the morning's play is as follows:

All-Comers' Singles—Semi-Final Round.

Karl H. Behr beat R. D. Little, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, 11-9, 6-1.

W. J. Clothier beat J. D. E. Jones, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

In spite of the uncertain weather this morning several handsome gowns were worn. Linen is a favorite material and many mulls are also seen. The varied shades—particularly the lighter ones—of pink are the vogue for hats this season.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was becomingly gowned this morning in a sponge cord suit with trimmings of dark blue velvet and velvet buttons. A dainty lingerie blouse was worn and a cerise chip hat was encircled with a long gray plume.

Mrs. Herman Leroy Emmett was wearing a white silk poplin with Oriental trimmings and a hat of crushed strawberry with crushed strawberry and brown cockades.

Mrs. James B. Haggin wore white embroidered mull and a cherry hat with roses of the same shade.

Miss Louise Scott's gown was of white eyelet linen with a blue girdle and a leghorn hat with pink roses was worn.

Mrs. Spottswood D. Schenck, a bolero suit of eyelet linen and white Neapolitan hat wreathed with pale pink roses.

Mrs. Natalie S. Collins was wearing white Valenciennes lace with trimmings of Irish lace and a white hat, with a collar of pink tulle and pale pink poppies.

Mrs. Howard Walters wore a bolero suit of white linen in cut work over a lingerie waist, and a leghorn hat with pink roses.

Mrs. Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., white batiste with Irish lace insertions and a salmon pink hat with ribbon roses of the same shade, and at the back pink tulle.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish was wearing a Princesse gown of white mull with Valenciennes lace and a leghorn hat with pink roses.

Mrs. Ogden Mills, a blue linen coat suit with medallions and collar of Irish crochet. A white Panama sailor faced with black was worn with white cockade and brown tulle.

Mrs. James Lowell Putnam, who is visiting Mrs. Fish, wore over a white lingerie blouse a Princesse suspender gown of black lace over white taffeta. A small Panama hat was worn with small black ostrich tips.

Mrs. William G. Roelker, Jr., white embroidered mull and a cream leghorn hat with cherry and buff ribbon and yellow roses and daisies, and at the back brown tulle.

Mrs. Richard Gambrill, handsome gown of buff linen embroidered heavily in white grapes, and a black hat with black cockades.

Miss Nano Morgan, blue linen Eton suit and a black sailor with a white chiffon veil.

The final match in the interscholastic series was played Saturday afternoon, J. A. Rosa, the Chicago representative, winning from H. L. Davenport, the Harvard representative, after a hard five-set match, 7-5, 10-8, 1-6, 5-7, 6-1.

THIS AFTERNOON'S MIXED DOUBLES.

This afternoon the last in the series of tennis tournaments arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, Mrs. Barger Wallach and Miss Maude Wetmore, will be started at the Casino. It will be in mixed doubles with eight pairs entered as follows—Miss Edith Roche and N. W. Niles, Miss Eleonora Sears and Will A. Larned, Miss Edna Barger and J. D. E. Jones, Miss Anita Peabody and Edgar Leonard, Mrs. Barger Wallach and Cyril Hatch, Miss Clara Chase and William Putnam, Jr., Mrs. Reginald Brooks and Malcom D. Whitman and Mrs. Margaret Rusk and Mr. Harold A. Sands. The prizes will be silver cups given by the Casino governors.

DEATH OF MRS. LUCIUS TUCKERMAN.

Mrs. Lucius Tuckerman of Washington, 87 years old, died Sunday morning at her country place, Ingleside, Stockbridge, Mass. She was the widow of Lucius Tuckerman of New York and Washington. Her grandfather was Oliver Wolcott, a member of Washington's cabinet, and her father was of the Gibbs family, in Stockbridge. For many years Mrs. Tuckerman was one of the leading hostesses of that place. Her surviving children are Alfred, Bayard and Paul Tuckerman, Mrs. James Lowndes, of Washington and Miss Emily Tuckerman.

Mrs. Tuckerman was a daughter of the late George and Laura W. Gibbs, a sister of Professor Wolcott Gibbs, a cousin of Major T. K. Gibbs and a niece of the late Governor Gibbs. Her maiden name was Eliza Wolcott Gibbs and her family were owners of the many tracts of land now controlled by the Gibbs Land Company. The body will be brought here for interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

ALL ORDERED OUT.

Penny Slot and Clear Gambling Machines Under the Ban of the Police.

The police Saturday shut down on the petty slot gambling machines about town, and those who want cigars must now get them in the regular way and will not have a chance to spend half a dollar trying to show that they can get half a dollar's worth, or a dollar's worth, of cigars for five cents; also, the newsboys and bootblacks and small boys generally will not have a chance to gamble away pennies for a chance that is almost infinitesimal. These penny slot machines in various places where small boys were in the habit of gathering or of visiting on business were very undesirable and have long been a nuisance in the eyes of thoughtful people who have seen how they worked. As for the cigar machines, they were patronized by grown folks who had money, and for that reason they were not so objectionable as the penny machines, as they were not patronized by children. There is of course a strong protest throughout the city, where these machines have been gradually increasing in number for some time past, but the machines are out.

It has been some years since slot gambling machines were banished from the barrooms, where they were played only by grown people, and the great majority of the bar keepers were glad when they were told to get rid of them. These penny machines were not get-rich-quick concerns, but each carried in a good profit to the keeper of the place where they were. One trouble was that they became so numerous that they became a nuisance; everybody wanted one. Now, besides kicking at the police, the original owners of those slot machines are kicking at the new-comers in the field, who caused the orders to remove the machines.

If the machines were not from their very nature public gambling machines, exposed openly to every one who visited the places where they were, the orders of the police to remove them would amount to nothing. The Police Commission has control of the liquor stores and can make rules for their conduct, but has no control of cigar stores, candy stores, lunch rooms, etc., and unless the machines kept in these places were clearly in violation of the law the order to remove them could be laughed at. But it was not laughed at, and the machines were removed.

A BELATED SALUTE.

When battleship Virginia arrived last week she did not have a supply of saluting powder on board, and accordingly could not follow naval custom and salute Admiral Thomas's flag. The saluting ammunition did not arrive until yesterday, but that was Sunday and in the United States Sunday salutes are not in good form. So at eleven this morning 8 o'clock the world over—the earliest proper opportunity, the salute was fired and was responded to by the saluting battery on the Reina Mercedes, the Station ship.

SUNDAY CONCERTS.

The first in a series of Sunday night entertainments at the Maycroft Conservatory of Music (Sea View Cottage) took place last night. Signor Cavaradossi's recent appearance on the concert stage was considered to be another triumph for the Italian tenor. Newporters and the Italian colony were well represented, and his arias were encored. Miss Bryne's soprano numbers were well chosen to suit the quality of her voice, and for an encore she gave a group of Irish songs. Much might be said about the local Italian band, whose instrumental numbers were excellent.

The visit of Signor Cavaradossi and Miss Bryne to the Training Station resulted in another engagement for Friday evening, when they will entertain the boys as well as the officers with a varied program. At the morning service the signor sang "Cujus Animam," from Rossini's "Stabat Mater," while Miss Bryne rendered the "Ave Maria" intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana."

MANY VARIETIES OF WEATHER.

The weather yesterday was again of the excursion order, and the boats and cars were filled with people out for an airing and a change. It was a clear, warm day, which brought thoughts of the open air, and everybody seemed intent on getting all the sunlight possible. The Mount Hope, New Shoreham, Pontiac and Warwick all brought good-sized crowds, which were quickly spread over the city. In the afternoon a fog, the first for some time, came in from outside and by dark the bells and whistles were in operation. Later the atmosphere cleared and a blow land, approaching a good gale about 3:30 this morning. Then there came another change, and there were two lively showers, starting about 7 this morning. Then the sun came out again, mixed up with signs of fog, and with a decidedly muggy feeling that promised a hot day.

FORT ADAMS BEATS THE VIRGINIAS.

The Fort Adams nine defeated the team from the Virginia on the post parade ground yesterday afternoon, in a sharp and well played game. It was a pitchers' battle throughout. Hoffman pitched a remarkably fine game for the Forts, allowing but one hit, and holded his position in fine style. The fielding of Bradbury and a catch by Angel for the Army nine, and the fielding of Hill of the navy, were the features, outside of the work done by the pitchers. The score:

BRYN MAWR WINS.

Freebooters Successful In Contest for Warren Cup.

Accident to Rockaway's Leading Player May Have Decided the Championship.

The first and final match for the junior championship and the cup emblematic of the championship presented by Mr. Samuel D. Warren, was played at the Westchester Club grounds Saturday afternoon, the Bryn Mawr Freebooters winning and becoming the junior champions by defeating the Rockaway team 12½ to 8½. It is probable that an accident to one of the players decided the championship, just as one of the contests for the Astor cup was decided by an injury to F. P. Keene in 1895 which gave that contest to Myopia.

Before the game Saturday, the Bryn Mawr team was looked on as a three to one bet. At the end of the second half, the middle of the game, Rockaway was leading by half a goal, and had play continued as it started it was anyone's game with the chances apparently favoring Rockaway as much as Bryn Mawr, for Rene La Montagne was playing a great game and cutting holes right through the fast Bryn Mawr line in a way that did not brighten those who saw the three end of the betting at the start. Then all at once Rockaway's chance went when Rene went down at the goal post after the last goal of the second period had been scored. It was stated by some who were looking at the spot that his pony rolled over him. He was seen to lie still at the foot of the goal post and the players and many spectators gathered about him. He was taken in Referee Linden's automobile to the club house and Dr. Flint was called on the telephone. He ordered the injured man taken to some quiet place and he was carried to Mr. Paul J. Rainey's on Preston road, where after the game it was stated that he was not seriously injured and would be all right after a few days' rest. This accident took the interest out of the game and many of the large gathering of spectators left before play was resumed.

There was considerable talk before play was finally continued. The Bryn Mawr team asked to have one of the Rockaway players who was present put on to fill Mr. La Montagne's place, but this the Rockaway team refused to do, and when play was resumed it was with but three players on a side, Mr. Rosengarten, the best player on the Bryn Mawr team, dropping out. There is a clause in the polo rules which reads as follows: "In case of a player being disabled by a foul so that he is unable to continue, the side which has been fouled shall have the option, instead of providing a substitute, to designate the player on the opposing side whose handicap is nearest above that of the disabled player, and the former shall thereupon retire from the game. The penalty shall be in addition to those heretofore provided, and the game shall continue with each side reduced by the above withdrawals." This rule was followed after considerable talk on both sides, but the result was disastrous to Rockaway, for the withdrawal of Mr. Rosengarten did not mean as much loss to Bryn Mawr as the absence of Mr. La Montagne did to the dark-blue; and Bryn Mawr, thanks largely to the clever shooting of Mr. Hinkle, steadily went to the fore and won out in the last two periods.

The conditions were ideal for fast polo. Again the field was as true as a billiard table, the ball rolled true and the ponies went fast and at times the play was a trifle fast for the players. The play was not of the hurricane order that was seen when Meadow Brook and Myopia, but it was good polo for a junior match. The great trouble was inaccuracy in the final shots at goal and Bryn Mawr suffered most from this defect, as Rockaway made much better target practice. Mr. Hazard had but one good chance and this he improved by two good shots, the second one counting on a cut. Mr. Conover was quite fine in his straight work and got well and Mr. La Montagne could put them through under all sorts of conditions while he was in the game. Rockaway lost chances at goals because of the strong defence of Bryn Mawr, but it must not be imagined that their own defense was forgot wanting for the veteran, P. F. Collier, was very much in evidence and turned many a sure thing back for mere play. For the victors Mr. Brown did most of the long advancing, his fast pushes making many long runs, but he was not sure on the goal shots and Mr. Hinkle did most of the scoring. Mr. Rosengarten handled his work cut out for him as long as Mr. La Montagne was in the game and he did good work, chiefly in spoiling plays and getting the ball straightened out the other way. Mr. Snowden did not appear to be at home at back, though he was quite sure with his back-handers.

The play was well broken up in the first two periods because Mr. La Montagne played the same game the Waterburys did against Myopia, breaking up the team play. After the second period the players rode more in pairs

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundance.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market today.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

DINNER GIVEN BY MRS. FISH.

Unique Scheme of Table Decorations Carried Out with the New Killarney Roses.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish gave another of her lilge dingers at "Crossways" Saturday evening, followed by a musicale at which Signor Campanari, the operatic tenor, sang, accompanied by Mrs. James Hazard Wilson. Mrs. Fish received her guests in the drawing room, after which they proceeded to the dining room and the adjoining verandah where 10 small tables were placed for the accommodation of the nearly 100 guests.

The various rooms were decorated with palms and cut flowers, while the table decorations by Wadley & Smythe were unique, consisting of a Japanese umbrella spread over each table, rising from a mass of pink Killarney roses, the standards being of the same flowers, which were also used to outline the ribs of the umbrellas. From the tips were hung electric lights, with smaller lights shining from among the roses on the standards and umbrellas. Hundreds of the new roses, a single variety resembling somewhat the wild rose but having more substance, were used in the decorations.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Reginald DeKoven, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mr. and Mrs. J. Townsend Burden, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Smith, Mrs. Richard Gambrill, Mr. and Mrs. James Lowell Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Leeds, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cass Ledyard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Storrs Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips A. Clarke, Mrs. Glen Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Symes Lehr, the Misses Mills, Miss Lota Robbison, Miss Sallie Jones, Miss Helen Delano, Miss Mabel Gerry, Miss Sallie Thayer, Miss Edith Colford, Miss Natica Rives, Miss Laura Swan, Miss Evelyn Blight, Viscomte de Chambrun, Henri des Portes and Messrs. Egerton L. Winthrop, Henry Walters, F. L. V. Hoppin, L. Monerie Robinson, Francis L. Otis, Melville E. Stone, Lawrence L. Gillespie, Robert Walton Goelet, Stanley Mortimer and Gould Redmond.

The cotillion orchestra played during the dinner and after the musicale for the informal dancing which was continued in the ballroom until midnight.

Luncheons were given Sunday by Mrs. Grenville Kane, Mrs. J. Fred Pierson, Jr., Mrs. Fellowes Davis, Mrs. William H. Sands, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Pembroke Jones and Mrs. J. Thompson Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry entertained on board yacht Electra. Dinners were given Saturday night by Mrs. Paul A. Andrews, Mrs. E. C. Knight, Mrs. George E. Rose, Mrs. E. J. Berwind, Mrs. Charles Hall and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan.

Yesterday Mr. Henry Walters entertained at luncheon on steam yacht Narada and Mr. S. Montgomery Bouvelt gave a luncheon on the Onondaga. Mrs. Hobert Sedgwick and Mrs. George E. Rose entertained at their cottages and dinners were given last night by Mrs. Henry S. Lehr, Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Glen Collins, Mrs. Edward B. Thomas, Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings and Mr. Egerton L. Winthrop.

NERVES AND THE MAN.

Nothing But Food Will Build Strong Nerves—Not the Food That's Eaten But That Which is Assimilated.

A man is as strong as his stomach.

Is it not strange then that persons with starved, irritable nerves should dose themselves with so-called "nerve-tonics," instead of going straight at the stomach for the cure?

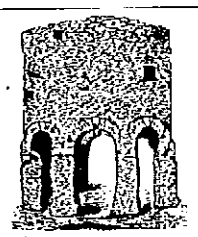

Well-nourished nerves are strong, calm, trustworthy.

Nervousness is generally nerve starvation. This is what causes irritability, nervous fear and trembling, nervous indecision and disinclination to attempt anything extraordinary; nervous headaches (neuralgia), loss of memory, etc.

The rich blood made from your food when Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets are taken, feeds the nerves and round about each nerve is built up, day by day, a delicate cushion or wrapper of fatty tissue that keeps it safe from the constant shock and irritation that thin and nervous persons experience.

Remember, Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets do not contain any "nerve food." The nerve food is in eggs, and beefsteak, and bread and vegetables. What Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets do is to help the stomach to get this nerve food out of your ordinary every-day breakfast, dinner and supper. Then your nerves take care of themselves and you should grow as good natured and contented as a plump baby.

Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists. Price, 50 cents per bottle. Prepared by Dr. Richards' Dyspepsia Tablet Association, 53 Worth street, New York.

gram, as had our revolution for independence in 1895. Everybody at that time knew that the Cubans had revolted against Spain and had engaged in an open fight for the liberty of their country. The present movement is more of a local adventure—only a crazy movement on the part of discontented persons. There is no moral reason for it. The government could suspend the constitutional guarantees, but it prefers to maintain the vigor and hope of the people and avoid possible excess.

"The medical force has been instructed to attend to all prisoners, and to give wounded or sick insurgents the same attention as wounded or sick men belonging to the government forces. Any insurgent repenting of his act can return within the pale of the law, and may not be molested. The government will have no petty spite or feeling of rancour against those who return to their senses and abandon the cause of disorder."

President Palma is not disposed to employ any other method than that of arms for the re-establishment of peace. He declared energetically that the government here would absolutely never compromise with any form of disturbance of order. The government was legitimately constituted, was bound by its imperious duty, and must demonstrate that it is stable and able to safeguard property, life and the happiness of the republic at present and in the future. Any compromise would sow the seed of armed revolution throughout the country. Malcontents were always extant, it being impossible to find public positions for everyone. To compromise with the disturbers now would result in further disturbance every few years. Suppressing the insurgents now will forever more guarantee the stability of the Cuban institutions, while dickering with them would expose the country to another disturbance of the peace in the near future.

Continuing, the president said: "This is my firm resolution and I shall maintain it at the cost of my life. I understand my duties and responsibility to the people. Such is the only method of defending Cuba's institutions and civilization."

Senor Palma referred to his own sacrifices, long years in the field, imprisonment and services while a member of the Junta, and said:

"Poor, I returned to my country as president, and poor shall I return to private life. I shall, however, have a clear record and a good name. I am disposed to exhaust my forces and shed my blood if necessary in helping to strengthen the foundations of our prosperous republic."

Pont Sterling, secretary of the treasury, asserts that the relentless pursuing of Menditta's force by Major Romeo August 25 and 26 caused the former's followers to fall rapidly away until Menditta himself went to Santa Clara city, where he expected to find friends and allies.

HIBERNIAN WEEK IN FALL RIVER.

This is Hibernian week in Fall River, where the annual state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of Massachusetts meets today and will continue in session probably until Thursday. The Fall River members of the order have made preparations to give the visitors a big time and the city is well decorated for the parade tomorrow afternoon. It is expected that there will be 700 delegates to the convention and 400 delegates to the Ladies' Auxiliary, besides the many others who will be drawn to the conventions. Tuesday, when the big parade occurs, there will be many visiting organizations in line. Tonight there will be a military ball in the state armory, the parade will take place tomorrow at 2:30, and Tuesday night there will be a big banquet, at which plates will be provided for 1,100. A large number of distinguished visitors are expected.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27, Wall Street—The stock market opened irregular, with Amalgamated Copper at 110½, American Locomotive 71½, American Smelting 161, Anaconda 270, Atchison 107 to 107½, Baltimore & Ohio 117⅝, Brooklyn Transit 77, Canadian 170⅝, Colorado Fuel & Iron 50, Erie 47½, Louisville 151½, Missouri Pacific 98, New York Central 143½, Great Northern preferred 325, Northern Pacific 247, Norfolk & Western 91⅝, Pennsylvania 142⅝, Reading 141⅝, Rock Island 28⅝, Sugar 142, St. Paul 188⅝, Southern Railway 39½, Southern Pacific 92⅝, Union Pacific 187⅝, United States Steel 47½, United States Steel preferred 107⅝.

11—Sales for both accounts caused a sharp reaction within a few minutes after business began. A subsequent rise in St. Paul to the record figure of 193¾, had only a slight effect in checking the selling elsewhere, which was continued to later on to an interesting scale. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison, Reading, Locomotive and Smelting yielded 1 to 1½ below Saturday's closing and Northwestern 2. St. Paul itself eventually succumbed to this pressure and went off to 187¾. A block of 10,000 shares of United States Steel was sold at 47. Meanwhile Sugar was bought heavily and rose 2¼ to 141½. Shortly before 11 o'clock the market rose in sympathy with a revived demand for St. Paul and Atchison. St. Paul crossed 193. Lackawanna jumped 24¾ to 251 on one transaction.

Noon—Money on call, strong, 5¼ @ 6 per cent; prime mercantile paper 6 per cent. Both Atchison and St. Paul increased their gains slightly to 107½ and 193¾ respectively, with the general market sharing moderately in the rise. Renewed selling, however, of the Harriman stocks and Reading on a large scale undermined the entire market, and prices dropped to the lowest of the morning. Near noon the selling relaxed and the market became dull and steady. Bonds were steady.

SUNDAY AT THE BEACH.

Weather Fine and Large Crowds in the Water and on the Sand.

The Plant in Better Condition This Year Than Ever and the Business Good.

Yesterday was not a record-breaker at the beach, yet there was a large gathering and bathing was general. It was fine in the water and on the sand, but yesterday those who participated in an outing there were attracted by its pleasures rather than driven by the heat in their own cities. But for the recent cool wave, it is fair to presume that the attendance at the beach would have been very large. As it was, there was about all the beach force could comfortably attend to, and similar Sundays through a season would make the management feel justified in spending larger sums of money on the improvements.

Yesterday might be said to be Worcester day, for many came from that city, and this causes one to recollect that a dozen or 15 years ago that city sent hundreds here every Sunday. That was before the days of the trolley car, which takes one to so many parks nearer home, but there have been some indications the present season that the Blackstone Valley was again turning to Newport as it did in years gone by.

It has been said that both the air and the water were good yesterday, but it might also be said that there was real sun bathing, too, for there was quite a respectable set on. The ride was high during the afternoon, and as during the past four days the caution signs were up, warning bathers of an undertow. Yet with the life lines, four of them, and the rafts at the end, there was no reason for alarm on the part of even timid bathers. A life line on Newport's beach was once thought an uncalled for convenience, yet strangers looked for them and now that they have come they are popular.

There is only one more large Sunday in prospect for the beach this season, and then, barring Labor day, there will be little activity there until the frost comes and goes again. Whatever may be said about the weather conditions earlier in the season and they have almost everything to do with the attendance at the beach, nothing better could have been asked than that which August provided. The business for the season, in fact, has been excellent, after the most discouraging business for the past two or three years, when Sundays generally brought poor weather.

Of course, this year the plant has been in better condition than ever before to take care of large crowds, and greater crowds have been handled, and without the usual kicking about not being able to secure a bathhouse or something to eat. There have been times when one had to wait for a house a little while, perhaps, but there has been no waiting for hours unless a person was disposed to demand some particular house which an earlier crowd had already secured and was occupying for a long time. Then, too, the bathing suits this year have been plentiful, and many of them have been so fresh that one would hardly suspect they were rented. All these accommodations to provide for the crowds would have shown the company a balance on the wrong side had not the weather been right, but it was good during the past month and naturally there will be more inclination to lay out money next year in further improvements.

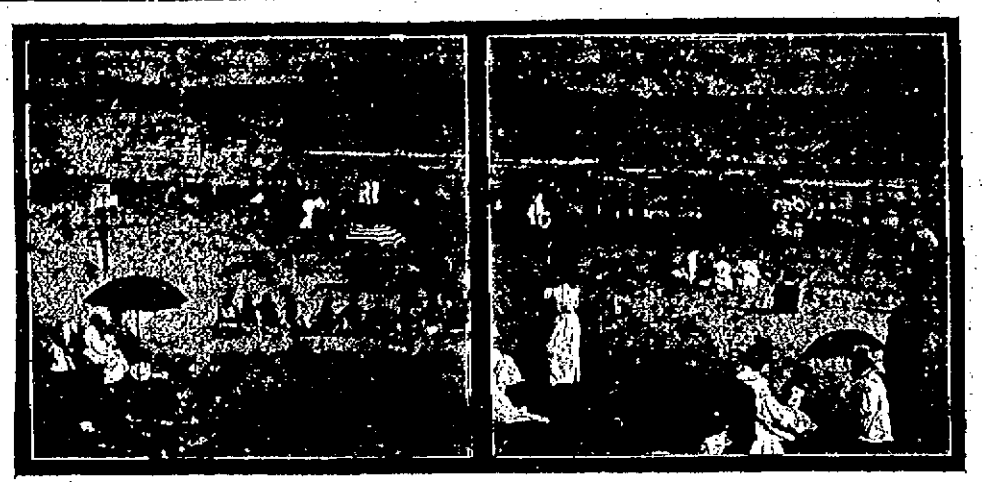

There has been much the same condition of affairs at the restaurant. With every Sunday stormy in past seasons, a large amount of provisions could hardly expected to be prepared each week, to be thrown away on Monday. But with expectations of good weather different calculations have been made, and the restaurant has not been in a position where it was necessary to practically close after the first rush. There have been times when the crowds were so large that it was necessary to close the doors until those within could be fed and the tables set for the next complement, but this year those who would wait their turn have been satisfied. It is quite an elastic arrangement which will provide for the feeding of a few dozen a day, and then jump without notice to several hundred. None of the parties serve notice that they are coming, yet of course they expect to find provision made for them when they arrive. The management has tried to meet these conditions, but on the ledger the big days must make good the losses of the poor days, for the elasticity of the place does not permit a shrinkage below a certain point in preparation.

INNOVATION IN BRISTOL YACHT CLUB RACES.

The committee in charge of the Bristol Yacht Club races, to be held September 8, has made some innovations in the classes of boats for that event, and have made it possible for the cruising craft to get into the game. Believing that there are many owners of cruising boats in Narragansett bay and vicinity who would welcome a chance, if not compelled to compete with yachts of a racing type, Commodore Charles F. Tillinghast has offered three cups as first prizes in three special cruising classes and for old-fashioned cathoats. Second prizes will be given if there are four or more starters. Boats that usually appear in the racing classes will not be allowed to compete and the committee has reserved the right to decide upon eligibility.

The yachts racing in these classes will be required to be in ordinary sailing and cruising trim, carrying only working sails. In other words, spinnikers, balloon jibs and other light kites of the racing machines will be barred. The winging-out of the jib with a pole while running before the wind will be allowed if desired, however. The object of this will be to give the cruising men a chance to show how they can race and handle their boats in competition with each other.

Vice Commodore Grinnell has offered first prizes in the 25 to 30-foot sloop class, the 21 to 25-foot sloop class and to the 25 to 30-foot cat class. In division C of the motor boat classes the first prizes are offered by N. G. Herreshoff.

and the play seemed slower. It was slower, in fact, because of the absence of that other player on each side. There were some very pretty runs and many narrow escapes in the last two periods, and at times it seemed as though the referee was not as strict in calling the players as were his predecessors in the two matches for the senior championship. However there were no accidents other than that to Mr. La Montagne, owing to the late hour at which the game began and the delay at the end of the second period. It was dark some time before play ceased. As the air was clear, however, the players were able to see the ball until the end, which came a little before 7 o'clock, just after the bell rang for the end of the game the Bryn Mawrs drove the ball through, but the goal did not count for the rule says that the game shall cease with the ball in its position at the moment of the signal.

While there was not the interest in this match that there was in that of a week ago, the crowd in attendance was very nearly as large as on the opening day when Meadow Brook and Myopia met. Nearly everybody who was not at the Narragansett Pier horse show seemed to be on hand and interested in the game. After the second period the crowd began to thin, and as it grew dark and the easterly wind began to penetrate the light raiment and the ladies began to get so chilled that wraps could not keep them warm, they rode away, and when the game ended there were few spectators in evidence.

Among those present were Mrs. and Miss Westmore, E. C. Knight, Reginald Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dolan, Mrs. N. Brown, W. J. Clothier, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Whitman, Mrs. W. H. P. Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Morgan, P. J. Rainey, E. L. Winthrop, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Andrews, E. L. Gerry, Mrs. W. E. Glyn, Mrs. Iselin, Miss Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. C. Taylor, J. S. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Burden and Miss Burden, Mrs. A. G. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Kipp, Mrs. R. L. Beeckman, R. C. Vanderbilt.

LAST OF SUMMER SERVICES.

Large Audience Listens to Illustrated Lecture on "London" in Trinity Guild Hall.

The last of the special summer services of Trinity parish were held yesterday. At Kay chapel in the morning the preacher was Rev. R. Bakewell Green and the music was by the Calvary choir; at Trinity in the morning Rev. Mr. Lowrie preached on "The Observance of the Lord's Day;" at evensong in Trinity Rev. Stanley C. Hughes was the preacher and the Calvary choir again sang, and at the social meeting at the guild hall in the evening the lecture on "London" was given by Rev. Mr. Green.

Mr. Lowrie took for his text Mark 2:27: "The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath," and by tracing his history of the sabbath showed that man is at liberty to spend his Sundays as he chooses, a fact recognized by Bible historians. Liberty and duty, however, are two different things, and Mr. Lowrie urged his hearers to spend their Sundays, not as they spend the other days, but in reflecting; where they stand in life and whither they are going.

At the social meeting in the guild hall after the usual religious service Rev. Mr. Green before a large audience, not all of which could be seated, gave an interesting lecture illustrated by the stereopticon, on "London." Mr. Nantell of New York then sang an Italian song and Miss Mary Leonard of this city, accompanied by Mr. Lacey Baker, of whom she is a pupil and whose excellent training her voice shows, sang well an Italian song, giving "Slumber Boat" as an encore.

The summer services at Trinity have been a success. The music has been inspiring; the lectures, sermons and addresses have been helpful, and the social and religious aims of the series have been realized.
